FIRE.—The alarm of fire was sounded about 5 o'clock Saturday morning, caused by the burning of Fisk's jewelry store. The fire spread to the barber shops of Philip Webb and George Valentine, both buildings being badly damaged. Fisk's building was completely gutted. The total loss will foot up between $600 and $800. The origin of the fire is not known.

It is not the too too and utterly utter thing to ask a young lady to see her vaccination. A sprightly young "society" man of this city, whose notions of humor are not too fine, the other evening, while visiting a modest lady asked to view her vaccination. She declined with thanks and—blushes. She had been vaccinated a little below the knee. When the young man learned this afterward from his sister he went out in the back yard and bruised his head against a post and registered a vow not to be funny in the future.—Tiffin Tribune.

WILL BE BUILT.—Evidence is accumulating that the Mansfield, Coldwater and Lake Michigan railroad will be completed at an early date. Mr. Townsend, who was formerly in the employ of the company in the capacity of bridge-builder, recently wrote interested parties at Mansfield making inquiry concerning the probable early completion of the road, and the prospect of obtaining contracts for buildings, etc. In reply he was informed that the company is not yet prepared to let contracts, but it is in contemplation to complete the road during the present year. We hope the time is not far distant when West Unity and Pioneer will hear the foot-sock of the locomotive and take rank among the railroad towns.—Bryan Dem.

WHAT SHALL I DO.—The greatest puzzle for the invalid to solve, is what to do or what to use to restore his health in the shortest possible time. He reads, an advertisement which just fits his case; of some patent nostrum which has cured thousands and which in all probability, really has never cured anybody, he meets a friend or neighbor and he tells him about another kind of medicine which he has heard of that is an infallible cure and so on, and after all he has read and heard he knows about as much as he did before. Now the best way in our opinion for you to do when you need anything in the line of drugs or medicines, is to go to Saur's drug and book store and ask the "Little Dutchman" to give you the article which he thinks will do you the most good and that which positively will benefit you.

COLE-HARMON MURDER.

Cole on Trial for His Life.

The Last of the Henry County Murder Cases.

The case of the State of Ohio vs. Peter D. Cole was called Monday afternoon. Cole was indicted for murder in the first degree for killing John Harmon at Deshler, the particulars of which is probably fresh in the minds of most of our readers, but the following brief review will not come amiss:

Peter D. Cole, the accused, was a laboring man, and for some time prior to the shooting had been working as a drayman in Deshler, where both he and his victim resided. They were in fact near neighbors, their places adjoining each other. John Harmon, the victim, was the proprietor of a livery stable, a well-to-do, sober and industrious citizen. Up to about two years before the tragedy the two men had been quite friendly.

At that time, however, trouble began to brew between them. Ugly stories reached the ears of Cole, in which Harmon's name was coupled with that of Cole's wife in a manner decidedly unpleasant to hear. Matters continued to grow worse; the chasm widened, and the friends became deadly enemies. Harmon seemed, if reports are true, to delight in doing that which would tantalize and provoke Cole, and so far did he carry it that, once or twice he felt that his life was in danger.

One evening, now nearly a year ago, the two men happened to be going home at the same time, and as they walked along but a few yards intervened between them. When Cole reached his gate he stopped until Harmon reached his, when he fired a revolver, he claims, into the air. The result of this was Cole was arrested on a peace warrant, sworn out by Harmon, and lodged in jail. Upon the case coming to trial he was acquitted.

This occurrence but made matters worse. Friends of the two men endeavored to get them to leave the town, telling each that unless they did so serious trouble was liable to result. To this neither paid any attention. On the day of the murder, Harmon was away from town until about 6:30 p. m. It was probably not more than an hour later when he was met by Cole at the store of W. T. Marvin, and without saying a word, the latter commenced to fire at Harmon. Harmon was unarmed and started to run, followed by Cole who continued firing. Harmon ran into Vogt's store and just as he was entering Cole fired the fatal shot.

The murderer made no attempt to escape, but soon after surrendered himself to the Deputy Sheriff. He was brought the next day to Napoleon and for five months he has been in jail awaiting trial. It was well on to Tuesday noon before a jury was empaneled. The following gentlemen composed the jury:

R. J. Cappel, Manona Shoemaker, S. R. Hasbinger, Geo. Bortz, W. B. Tubbs, D. L. Smith, Thos. McEnery, Jacob Hiser, John Sell, Taylor Winner, A. M. Willard, W. S. French.

The case was ably stated by Prosecutor Knapp for the prosecution and J. R. Tyler for the defense, after which the examination of witnesses on the part of the State commenced. The first witness examined was Wm. T. Marvin, the proprietor of the store where the shooting first began. He detailed the circumstances of the affair in an intelligent manner, but nothing new in the case was brought out. Other witnesses were examined, all testifying about the same as Mr. Marvin. The case will probably occupy the rest of this week. The State is represented by Mr. Knapp and W. Stephenson, the defense by Jas. R. Tyler and A. L. Lessick.

Letters remaining uncalled for in the Napoleon, Ohio, Post Office for the week ending Jan. 21st, 1882:

Miss Ellie Burgess; C. W. Boucher; Berin, G. S.; Walter Hollister; Peter Hurling; Wm. Heller; Thos. T. Jassine; Mrs. Katarah Knapp; Clark Mitchell; Will Karkul; Mary Miller; Mrs. Francis Packard; Miss Katie Rohrs; Fred. Schmirger; Mrs. Celia Smith; Mrs. Mary Schmirger; Miss Maud Wilson.

Persons calling for the above letters will please say they were advertised and give date. JAMES S. FOULKE, Postmaster.

MARRIED.—We find the following in the Marquette (Wis.) North Star, which closely concerns a former Napoleon boy. We extend congratulations to James and his bride:

"After the evening services at the Presbyterian church last Sunday, the choir remained and two of its members were united in matrimony by the pastor, Rev. Geo. Woodhull. The contracting parties were Mr. J. H. Peaslee and Miss Nellie Thorne, both well known and well thought of in Marquette, which place will continue to be their home. The Star bestows its benison with great unanimity, and hopes enough of the world will have the toothache to keep them always happy."

"What do you sell 'm for, if you don't want 'm smoked in here?" inquired the young man, with an air as if that settled it, when the proprietor of a Napoleon drug store had requested him to smoke his cubed cigarettes on a back street. Now a cubed cigarette, the Northwest would assure the public, is a compound of undeveloped concentrated amide, which is said to be good for the catarrh and which would drive a polecat to suicide from mortification at the comparative poverty of odor. "We sell 'm, young man, because there is a profit in 'm and there are fools who buy 'm; and we sell pills, too, but we don't anticipate that the man who buys 'm will stay in the store till they operate." The prescription clerk thumped the shoe case to the tune of the "little boy that died" and the rocking horse by the stove ran away.

We are informed that one of our citizens is bargaining with the Land Association for the Beckett House, and if successful in purchasing the property, will move it back to the rear end of the lot and put up a fine brick hotel in its place, in the spring.

The present plan of paying taxes in our county is a great inconvenience to the tax payers living in remote parts. If the same plan were adopted as in some other counties—the Treasurer visit the localities and collect the taxes, it would be a great relief, especially to the tax payers of Bartlow township.

[All very well, but the Treasurer would require a body guard to protect him and his money.—Ed.]

The Auditor and Probate Judge, we are informed, cannot agree as to who shall be appointed to fill the vacancy in the Board of County Commissioners. Several persons have been named, among the number Mr. Hiram Cole of this place. The appointment of Mr. Cole to the Board would be hailed by the tax payers in this section of the county with a considerable degree of satisfaction, he being well known as an honest, straightforward business man. Mr. Cole, however, does not desire the appointment.

[The Recorder has a say in the matter also, but these officers don't seem in a hurry to make an appointment.—Ed.]

ED. NORTHWEST.—In the weekly perusal of your excellent paper we find communications from all sections of our county, but in vain we have looked for an item from our flourishing little town, which is one of the most promising little towns in Henry county.

The first we will speak of is our friend J. J. Fraker, who keeps a large grocery and dry goods store. You will find that Jacob keeps a large stock of goods and sells as cheap as any one in the county. Since he got married he is more attentive to his business and does not look so sleepy on Monday mornings as he used to.

We will give a list of boarding houses: The first is the hotel kept by J. Ruset, Henry Boley, City Marshal, also keeps boarders, Fred. Miller, drayman, keeps boarders, John Wolf, George Rowley, Frank Sellers, Stephen Royal, and Peter Dunn all give first class accommodations.

The stave and hoop factory of Jones & Sons give employment to about one hundred men and boys, they are doing a good business and are first class men and pay the highest prices for logs and bolts, those who haul their timber there will find them good honest business men.

We need a good grist mill and warehouse to make our little town complete.

There was a dance at Mr. Noris last Saturday night in Putnam county. The boys had a good time; they are more civil than they used to be, just ask Mr. F. Hess if he has found a mate for that mitten he got last Tuesday night.

Something is going to happen, Jolly Jonathan was out sparking last Sunday night. John don't sit too close for it does not look well.

J. A. Royal's carpenters are slow with his house but we hope he will succeed. One thing lacking—no housekeeper.

We understand that Charley Hornung is going to build a large brick building which will add greatly to the looks of our town. P. P. C.

FIRE.—On the morning of Jan. 18th, the residence of J. W. Hanna, of Damascus township, was discovered to be on fire to such an extent that it was impossible to save the building. A portion of the goods were saved, about $200 worth of bedding, clothing, provisions &c. were burnt. The records and papers belonging to the township clerk's office, also those of the Justice office were saved.

Mr. H. feels very grateful for the kind assistance of his neighbors in saving property. No insurance. Com.

Godey's Lady's Book for February

Is a sparkling number. The steel plate is a beautiful sketch drawn by Darley, representing a scene in "The Cricket on the Hearth," and the novelette "Cherry Snows" is a thrilling love story from the pen of Carrie Beebe Crocker. The shorter stories, poems, recipes, puzzles, games, etc., are all first-class, and the Fashion and Work Departments are replete with the very latest designs. Take it, all in all, this number is an exceptionally good one. We would suggest to those who do not take it, that the Lady's book would make a handsome holiday present to your friends. Any of our readers can be supplied promptly by leaving their orders at this office. We will furnish our own paper and the Lady's Book for the low price of $3 per annum. Now is a good time to send in your subscription. The publication office is 1005 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Macaulay's "Life of Frederick the Great."

This is a remarkable book, for several reasons. It is the story of one of the greatest military heroes and statesmen of the world. It is written by an author almost unrivalled in literary power and brilliancy. It is sold at a price that will certainly amaze almost any one, only 20 cents, or if to be sent by mail, 25 cents. It is the first book published by The Useful Knowledge Publishing Company, which attempts by its literary "Rebellion" to take the place of the American Book Exchange, and the "Literary Revolution." It claims to be an example showing the quality and price of numerous standard works which they propose to issue with great rapidity. It is certainly a very beautiful and well made book, as the copy on our table will testify. "Rip Van Winkle, and other Sketches," by Washington Irving, is promised to follow this immediately, in uniform in style and price. Other announcements, with specimen pages of these and other works including the Cyclopedias of Science, History, Biography, Poetry, Fiction, etc., in process of publication will be sent on application to the publishers. RESCUED FROM DEATH.

William J. Coughlin of Somerville, Mass., says: In the fall of 1875 I was taken with BLEEDING OF THE LUNGS followed by a severe cough. I lost my appetite and flesh, and was confined to my bed. In 1877 I was admitted to the Hospital. The doctors said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar. At one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of DR. WILLIAM HALL'S BAL-SAM FOR THE LUNGS. I got a bottle, when to my surprise, I commenced to feel better, and to-day I feel better than for three years past. "I write this hoping every one afflicted with Bleeding of the Lungs will take DR. WILLIAM HALL'S BAL-SAM, and be convinced that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED." I can positively say it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness. april 9/81-17

Mother! Mothers! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians
